

CODE OF CONDUCT – PARENTS/CARERS

Good practice for parents

Parents should be encouraged to accompany their children to activities, but they should not be included in supervision calculations unless they are present in an official volunteering role.

CRISC's Parents' Code of Ethics give everyone a guide to what is expected of parents if they are part of an organisation, participating in a sport, or are spectators at their child's events.

Ethics in sport are embodied in the following principles: respect, responsibility, fairness, caring, trustworthiness and good citizenship.

CRISC's Parents' Code of Ethics asks the parents to respect the following guidelines:

1. Encourage your child to skate in a safe and healthy environment.
2. Encourage good sportsmanship by demonstrating positive support for all skaters, coaches, volunteers and officials and do not question the judgement of event officials
3. Emphasise that doing one's best is more important than winning. Teach that effort and participation are important as victory
4. Do your best to make skating fun and remember that the child participates in sports for his/her own enjoyment – not yours. Do not force them to participant unwillingly
5. Advise your child to treat other skaters, coaches and officials with respect
6. Advise your child to treat everyone equally and sensitively regardless of their age, disability, gender, race, ethnic origin, cultural background, sexual orientation, religious beliefs or political affiliation
7. Inform your child's coach of any physical disability that may affect the safety of the child or the safety of others.
8. Place the emotional and physical well-being of your child ahead of your personal desire to win.
9. Support all efforts to remove verbal, physical and racist abuse from ice skating
10. Remember that young people and vulnerable adults learn best by example
